

Empower Your Voice!

We all have the ability to change our voice. And it really is worth working on your personal speaking style. As a professional speaker and speech coach with over 25 years' experience, I have seen time and again how people with stage fright can be transformed into skilled orators.

Using empathy, focused feedback, individual exercises, a wide range of methods and a touch of humour, I help you to get your point across and showcase your personality.

Whether in group training sessions, one-to-one lessons or lectures, I can show you how to enjoy speaking in public.

In person and online

In English and German

Group Training

Your breathing is too fast, you do not appear confident, your voice is getting hoarser and your audience is switching off. Many people have difficulty in getting their message across in a convincing manner – whether during a lecture or video conference, on the phone, in a face-to-face conversation or in a podcast. It is important to remember that it is not just WHAT you say that makes the key difference to your demeanour, but, above all else, HOW you say it. And it is possible to work on this: body language, breathing, voice, articulation and thus the entire way in which you come across can be significantly improved with professional speech training in a group.

Learn how to speak persuasively, confidently and effortlessly – and hold the attention of your audience.

One-To-One Lessons

Our voices are as individual as our fingerprints! In one-to-one lessons I focus on your personal needs and wishes, starting with an analysis of your voice and speaking style. Whether tackling stage fright, working on the pitch or tone of voice, focusing on desire for greater vibrancy while giving lectures or addressing the need for greater clarity and precision, the right exercises for each individual quickly lead to success.

Presentation

Would you like to give a larger number of people an understanding of matters relating to the voice, public speaking and presence in a shorter space of time? Are you looking for an entertaining and light-hearted keynote speaker for your event, enabling the audience to pick up practical tips?

In my interactive lectures, I encourage your employees to try their hand at changing their voice, controlling their speaking pace or increasing their presence. With humour and expertise, I challenge people to examine their own speech patterns and try out new approaches.

Make yourself heard!

Get in touch!

dialog@simonedorenburg.com +49 (0)173 9961168 www.simonedorenburg.com